VALERII KOLESNIK
.NET C# DEVELOPER

App development for me is not just about fix wrong code, produce new one or refactor the whole project. First of all this is my craft and I am sharpening my skills everyday. I put my best to each project and bring high quality and fresh look to it. When I face the problem I know how to google the answer and how to read the documentation. Maybe I have no professional practical knowledge in software development, only academical, but I can absorb any information about new technologies like a sponge.
